FANDI ARDYAN

Informatics Engineering | Data Scientist | Data Analyst

Malang, East Java, Indonesia

Summary

Hello I'm Fandi Ardyan, a first year college student at University Muhammadiyah Malang, starting to look for roles in tech industry.

As an Informatics Engineering, i'm fascinated by the invisible forces that shape our world, even though we can't see it, we can feel it and it is very real. Why are several programming languages used so much in several applications? why is big data so important to maintain? and also how to organize this data so that it can become one unit

As such i have taken lots of programming course and would like to put my knowledge to good use. Analyzing tomorrow's up and coming companies and also i love calculus and statistics so much.

Let's connect or you can reach me out to fandardyy@gmail.com
